Various Attacks.

An effort made by the German army which holds the enemy right flank to the sea to drive in the front of the allies from the coast was extended yesterday to the Yser region held by the Belgians. At half past eight in the morning after an all night bombardment, the Germans attacked on a front of four miles between Langemark and Kippe. The Germans gained a footing in the Belgian advance position, but were thrown out after a fight lasting nearly all day.

Loss Was Heavy
Berlin official communication attributes the failure to the fact that the Germans gained towns on the battle front after fighting. The British retreated on Monday and British guns roared at the German positions. The Germans penetrated the abandoned position.

Wednesday the Germans gained no new ground from east of Ypres. The British and French forces in the Ypres salient were repulsed. The German pressure on the British front was not disclosed. Field Marshal Haig said last week heavy French reinforcements were moving toward the battle front.

The remainder of the British front and on the Ploeghe front and French sector there has been no infantry activity.

Belgium Active
Belgium troops north of Ypres have repulsed the German attack and captured 600 prisoners in ejecting the enemy from trenches they had captured. On the Lorraine sector American troops have captured the German position in unopposed possession of no-man's-land.

Vice Admiral Milner has been appointed British secretary for war. A war newspaper says that the British are fighting the most desperate battle since the beginning of the war. The report lacks official confirmation. Lord Milner who has been in the cabinet since 1911, is reported to be the place of the retiring ambassador Lord Berke, according to the report.

Increase in Loss.

British merchant losses due to German submarines in the past week. The total of ship losses rose from six to fifteen, while the increases in vessels of more than 1000 tons were from four to eleven. French and Italian losses show little change.

Desperate Resistance
Undiminished in intensity the great battle in Flanders and south across the French border goes on. Having moved east of Ypres the British are fighting the most desperate battle since the beginning of the war. The report lacks official confirmation. Lord Milner who has been in the cabinet since 1911, is reported to be the place of the retiring ambassador Lord Berke, according to the report.

Hungarian Minister Resigns After Fight Over Suffrage Bill

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Amsterdam, April 18.—The Hungarian ministry has resigned, a dispatch from Budapest reports.

A Copenhagen dispatch last night said Premier Ekerle had decided to resign owing to dissension in the ministry over the suffrage reform bill and King Charles was expected to request him to form a new cabinet excluding the ministers who opposed a compromise on the suffrage measure.

The decision of the Hungarian cabinet was reported at a meeting yesterday morning at which Premier Ekerle resigned. All members of the cabinet were present except Count Szereyenyi, minister of commerce, and Count Zichy, minister of court, who were absent from Budapest. After short conferences all members present signed the document tendering their resignations.

Hold Section.
The British have been holding this sector of the front as strongly as they can since the German attack on the sector where they have held up the German attempt to advance further toward Hazebrouck, as was indicated in the reports of fresh German attacks last night in the Meris sector along the Bailleul-Hazebrouck railroad. It seems not unlikely the enemy high command has forecasted a possible large German purpose drive determinedly southward enveloping Bethune and push on to a point where they can compel the British to fall back from Givenchy and the region north of Arras where the dominating Vimy ridge is the German objective.

What Will Happen?
Whether indeed the larger German strategy has not been shown. The development of the enemy demonstration on the Locon-Robecq line, however, will be followed with close attention in view of this possibility and its bearing on the great struggle of the Somme to the south where the firm hold of the British on the Arras region and the line south to Albert has held up the enemy push to Amiens.

Heavy Bombardment.
London, April 18.—Southeast of Kemmel Hill on northern battle front the Germans pressed back the British line slightly but the situation was reported by a counter-attack the war office announced. During the night there was no change in the British front. In the Bailleul the Germans made three attacks before noon yesterday but each case suffered complete repulse.

The Germans opened heavy bombardment of the British position on the Locon-Robecq line during the night the bombardment was still in progress at dawn today.

More Advances.
With the British Army in France, April 18.—The Germans brought up fresh divisions for the hard thrusts which they made yesterday. Although the British were unable to hold the Waeschela and Metern, which they had retaken by counter-attack, they beat off the enemy elsewhere. The British maintained their line throughout the night.

The Belgians took 600 prisoners including many officers belonging to seven different regiments which represented one Bavarian, one Prussian and one main infantry division.

Heavy Bombardment.
A renewed heavy bombardment on the British front between LaBasse and Divenchy and the Nieppe forest suggests the Germans contemplating a drive toward the Yser region in the hope of taking Bethune and creating a new salient. All the area back of this section of the front was sprinkled with gas shells throughout the night. At six o'clock morning drum fire intensity between Locon and Robecq where the enemy has tried repeatedly to advance his line to the canal.

Advance Attacks.
Six heavy attacks were delivered by the Germans yesterday afternoon between Bailleul and Ypres in an attempt to bend the front still further in the Flemish marshes. Kemmel hill was assaulted by three waves of Germans in the afternoon but the enemy was thrown back with heavy casualties and a counter attack completely restored the British line. Other attacks were broken up by British machine gun fire.

Break Attacks.
Paris, April 18.—After a preliminary bombardment strong German detachments attempted to advance last night near Corbeny on the Alsne front. Today's fighting was confined to the attack was broken up by French fire.

Front Engaged.
Ottawa, Ont., April 18.—The French are heavily in action on the northern battle front, a Reuters dispatch from London today.

Railroads to Pay
Market Coal Price

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 18.—Railroads hereafter will purchase coal at the full market price, it was announced by the Federal Coal Commission. The plan was accepted after President Wilson intervened to settle differences between Fuel Administrator Garfield and John Williams, director of purchases for the railroad administration.

The fuel administration objected to the sale of coal to railroads at prices less than those charged other consumers and to the system whereby railroads get one hundred per cent coal supply to mine supplying mines with coal. One effect of the arrangement was pointed out will be all consumers will share alike the sale of coal to the railroads. The administration will begin immediately to work out a plan for supplying the railroads with fuel and apportioning their order in a way to relieve mines in congested territory.

YANKEE FIGHTERS ARE BUSY EVERY MINUTE OVER THERE

Americans grenading the enemy trenches (above); mess time behind the American lines (left), and an American trench the moment after the gas attack signal had been sounded.

If the many thousands of American fighters now in France have not had part as yet in the most important engagements it is not to be supposed that they have been wasting their time. Every minute of the day and many minutes of the night find the Yankees skirmishing with Fritz and harassing him by sniping and sniping. There is not a phase of warfare as it is known today in Europe that has not been made familiar to the men of Pershing's forces, who may soon share the front trenches in Picardy with their French and British comrades.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA EFFECTIVE IN SWEDEN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Stockholm, April 18.—German propaganda in Sweden and other Scandinavian nations no longer is ill-directed or ineffective. It is the opinion of the statement of the country in which it operates. On the contrary it challenges even unwilling admiration in Sweden for its completeness and effectiveness.

In the early days of the war the contents powers and America extracted considerable amusement from German methods of propaganda. The result that they seemed to be based on an almost absolute failure to understand the psychology of the non-Germanic peoples.

Undeterred by earlier failures the Germans have kept at work and have organized a system of propaganda which is regarded as tireless, intelligent and, without a doubt, effective.

The organization centers around three undertakings, all organized by Germans, but, in accordance with Swedish law, directed by Swedes. These are the magazine Jorden Rundt, (The World Around), The "Picture Central" and the "Polar Star" Biograph.

Undertaken by earlier failures the Germans have kept at work and have organized a system of propaganda which is regarded as tireless, intelligent and, without a doubt, effective.

All three undertakings are housed in the same quarters. The exploits of the German army are graphically illustrated by word, by picture and cinema films. Graphic news, news events kept up almost to the hour, show the progress of the German armies. The newest bulletins are displayed. Visitors are loaded with pamphlets and books, some of them of such character that they form permanent additions to a reference library. Whenever a German soldier does some unusual act of kindness, a cinema operation is there to record it and the Swedish patrons of the Polar Star have opportunity to admire it.

Anxiety Displayed By People Waiting For Foch to Strike

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Ottawa, Ont., April 18.—Anxiety as to when General Foch will make use of the allied reserve which is said to exist but has not been called upon, is expressed in a dispatch from London to Reuters agency today.

There is still anxiety as to when General Foch will make the decisive stroke now that the British have stood four weeks of hammering by the immense German reserves estimated at 420,000 men, in a fashion which led the French Reuters to describe the British army as the wing of sacrifice, says the dispatch.

Experts do not endorse the opinion advanced in some quarters that the advance critical in the northern theater has been definitely checked. It is agreed the Germans have not obtained the decisive result aimed at, thanks to the extreme stubbornness of the British resistance.

"The battle in part appears to have been following the course of the great series of German thrusts of October, 1914, which ended in Ypres and failure for the enemy. There was then no allied reserve. That reserve is now called upon. That reserve is now called upon. There will probably be continuous fluctuation in the northern area for some time to come but the salient fact of the fighting is the staying power of the British soldiers."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANY SALOONS FORCED TO CLOSE IN MICHIGAN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Detroit, Mich., April 18.—When Michigan goes dry at midnight on April 30 a total of 3,245 saloons in the state will be closed. About 62 breweries are prohibited from manufacturing beer or any intoxicating liquor. At the election in November, 1916, the amendment providing for "dry" Michigan was adopted by a majority of nearly 70,000.

Manufacturers and dealers of liquor in Michigan have had six weeks to close up their stock and wind up their business affairs. Michigan brewers employed 2,066 men, while saloons had a total of 6,587 employees. The law will mean that man have been taking up other trades but the movement of labor from the breweries has not been pronounced.

Some of the brewers will manufacture "ice cream" and others, it is understood, will turn out distilled products not prohibited by law. A few beer plants will be converted into ice cream factories.

According to claims made by the anti-saloon organization in Michigan, approximately 2,338,000 bushels of grain have been used in the yearly output of Michigan breweries.

The internal revenue report for the year ended June 13, 1917, showed that 2,332,211 barrels of beer were brewed in Michigan. The value of the stock of grain used in the production of beer was estimated at a bushel of grain is used to make a barrel of beer.

INITIAL MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL HELD

FIRST MEETING OF ALDERMANIC FORM OF GOVERNMENT HELD LAST EVENING. THOMAS MCKEOWN NAMED STREET COMMISSIONER.

NO "SECRET" SESSIONS

Alderman J. J. Dulin Urges Council to Work for Best Interests of Janesville and to Put Taboo on Secret Meetings.

After being out of control of city affairs for six years the aldermanic form of government again took possession last evening at the first meeting of the new city council. At seven o'clock the city fathers led by Mayor Charles Valentine marched into the municipal court room which will be the council chamber. A dozen friends, every desk in the chamber were greeted with a great array of roses and carnations sent to the newly elected officers by their many friends. Every desk in the chamber was decorated with flowers making a very imposing sight.

Mayor Valentine called the meeting to order and City Clerk James E. Worthington called the roll. Every member of the council was present. After the roll call Charles Valentine gave a short address telling the aldermen what was expected of them. He said that the council was the most important body in the city and that it was their duty to see that the city was properly governed. He urged them to work for the best interests of Janesville and to put a taboo on secret meetings. He said that the council should be open to the people and that they should be able to see what was going on. He said that the council should be a body of men who were honest and who were willing to do what was right. He said that the council should be a body of men who were not afraid to stand up for the people. He said that the council should be a body of men who were not afraid to do what was necessary to make the city a better place. He said that the council should be a body of men who were not afraid to do what was necessary to make the city a better place.

Mr. Valentine told how the eyes of the entire city were upon them and that it was up to them to make a showing and to run the city in a business like way. Going further Mr. Valentine spoke of the Jackson street bridge and stated that it would be necessary for the council to take action on this matter. He said that the council should be a body of men who were not afraid to do what was necessary to make the city a better place.

The aldermen then began their vote on the different city appointments. They were: City street commissioner, Frank L. Smith was appointed city assessor with a salary of $1000; C. R. Kersch was named city engineer with a salary of $1200; Mrs. Emma Harvey was elected visiting nurse with a salary of $75 per month; George Slightman was appointed plumbing inspector with a salary of $1200; James Gillespie was named janitor with a salary of $750; and Doctor Buckmaster was appointed health officer with a salary of $500.

DATE FOR DEPARTURE OF SELECTS TO CAMP GRANT IS APRIL 30TH

Orders Received to Entrain the Forty-Six Men From This District at Ten O'clock Morning of April 30th

Complete orders for the entrainment of forty-six men to Camp Grant were received this morning by the local board. The board has been laboring under the impression for some time that the increment would depart on the 26th but this morning's orders call for the men to be sent on the morning of the 30th. They will en train at the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul depot and leave over that road at eleven-fifteen on a special train to Camp Grant. The entire number of 364 men will leave at eleven-fifteen. At Beloit, that district's quota of 63 men will be picked up on May 2nd. The entire group of men will then depart for the Rockford camp arriving there at one o'clock in the afternoon, 451 men strong. Just when the district's quota of thirty-two men, this district's quota of the next draft of troops, will leave for Columbus Barracks has not as yet been announced. Entrainment throughout the country will take place between May 1st and 15th but the exact date for the sending of the Janesville boys is not known. Orders are expected very shortly however.

STAMP CASE BEFORE HIGH COURT IN MAY

One of the most unique proceedings in the history of the supreme court of Wisconsin will be witnessed on May 1st when the court will make up out of the regular order the so-called Trading Stamp case. Always before cases have been given to the supreme court from the lower courts by an original writ started in the supreme court. When Dairy and Food Commissioner George Weigle gave notice that the seller of a product containing a trading stamp must be able to redeem that stamp in cash, objections were made by several companies. The Downey-Pearl Co. of Chicago, manufacturer of clothing, arranged to redeem their trading stamp coupon through their Illinois office. This was objectionable by the state. Proceedings were started in the supreme court with the result that it became necessary for either the supreme court to take testimony or send the matter to the lower court to gather the evidence. Finally Judge A. G. Zimmerman of the Dane county Probate Court was selected to take the evidence. His findings will be immediately reported to the supreme court which has fixed May 1st as the day when the court will consider the evidence. The regular session of the supreme court to hand down the decision will be held April 30.

KIDNEY TROUBLE NOT EASILY RECOGNIZED.

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success. We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herb and compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Janesville Daily Gazette.

This War Must Be Fought On European Soil

If the peoples of the earth are not to become toiling millions for the Prussian Junkers and the Prussian Krupps, if they are not to be terror-ridden slaves at the mercy of a German Kaiser's will, Prussianism must be driven back within its own borders and kept there.

Not only English freedom, French freedom is at stake. Our own cherished institutions, our free government, all that our fathers fought for, all that free peoples prize, is threatened by an enemy that would impose his own hateful Kultur on every free institution in every liberty-loving land.

That is why the war must be fought on European soil. We are fighting in Europe now that we may not have to fight in America, on the very thresholds of our own homes, later.

We are fighting for the safety and liberty of our children, our homes, our country. No price is too great to pay for Victory.

Americans, you are called upon to back our armies in France, to furnish them the guns and shells and ships and airplanes, the enormous quantities of every sort of supplies that they must have to defeat the Prussian armies and drive them back across the Rhine.

OUTSIDE WORKING HOURS.

The movement for a shorter working day has become very widespread. It is possible that our entire industrial system may be organized on an eight hour basis before long. But it is pretty sure that the man who expects any considerable success will have to keep his hours working during some of his hours.

The ambitious fellow gets contradictory advice. One authority tells him to quit thoughts of work when he quits the shop. Otherwise he will lose sleep, become a prey to worry, and fail to get his best efficiency.

On the other hand, there are very few business men that do not solve many of their problems in the quiet hours away from the office. The artisan or clerical worker who quits all thought of work on leaving the shop may live a comfortable and happy life. But he is not likely to get very far. The fellows who are really going ahead are using some of their spare time to fit themselves for larger work.

The number of people who are working during off hours for a larger future is more than people realize. A host of them are taking correspondence courses, attending evening schools, or classes in Y. M. C. A. organizations, and boys and girls clubs. The young people of Janesville who are using their spare hours outside of work for the purpose of sport and pleasure are not realizing how many of their friends are quietly preparing for larger futures.

It is one of the arguments against the long working day, that it leaves people so physically weary that they cannot do any quiet home planning about their work, or even in preparation for the larger future. It is foolish for people to fret and worry. But most earnest people do a lot of quiet thinking in their off hours, so to how they can better meet their daily problems.

OUR BURDEN OF DEBT.

One of the methods by which the German plotters threw sand in our machinery is to load down heavily on the terrible burden of debt we are carrying. They talk as if money were being thrown away like so much dirt.

This is old stuff. All opponents of human advance have always used it. When the American school system was being built, the monks used money to buy the souls of the children. A school board would cost a terrible sum of money. It could not be paid for for ten or twenty years. It was a burden hanging its hand on every man's income. Yet our people continued to build schoolhouses, and were never sorry for it.

So when our free spending of money to ward off the terrible German menace, it will cost a good sum of money. But it is cheap for what we get.

When a man's wife and his children are stricken with some terrible disease, he does not consider cost much then. He pays out his good money for which he has toiled hard and long, with the same freedom with which Uncle Sam is spending his now. Even if it takes all his savings, he is willing to do it to have his family.

Our national burdens seem light in comparison. It is now estimated that the government is spending about a billion a month on the war. It is proposed to pay about a third of it in taxes. That means about $3,000,000,000 new debt in a year. The wealth of the United States is estimated at about $200,000,000,000. That is, it would take twenty-five years of war to use up our national wealth.

Add even then this makes no account that this war will be largely paid out of the savings of the people. As Germany already owes $3,000,000,000 on a national wealth of $30,000,000,000, it is easy to see which will crack first. Wherefore it is no time to cry baby on the money question.

WORK BUGEN.

With the first session of the new administrative council over it might be said that the work of the new administration has officially begun. The selections of the various appointive offices have been well taken and it is noted that there is no radical change evidently contemplated by the new city fathers. With this exception of the street commissioner, (and he was in charge of one of the divisions of the work under the commissioners) all the former officers were re-elected.

It is to be hoped that some of the energy can be made larger to compensate the workers better, and thus assure the city more efficiency. That the new council is going to look into the question of the management of the City Water company before making any definite changes, is also a wise precaution. Taking it all in all, Alderman Dutin's statement there would be no "star chamber" sessions of the present council, and that everything would be open and above board, was the most significant statement made, showing the spirit of the new administration.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Here we are at the western fighting line of the great European war and what does it mean to us? A Providence, Rhode Island paper says: "Tens of thousands of men have been sent on descriptions of the German peril. The resources of the English language have been exhausted in denunciations of Teutonic greed and cruelty."

"If one should wish, however, to put the case in a few words, he might simply cite the story told by a Norwegian woman, a stewardess on a merchant ship that encountered one of the Kaiser's submarines: 'The stewardess and her husband were invited to go on board the submarine, apparently through courtesy, and after they were on the deck of the craft a few minutes the officers of the U-boat went below, closed the hatches and submerged the craft, leaving both struggling for their lives in the sea. After a short struggle the man sank. 'Those in the lifeboats saw what had happened and rescue was impossible just as she had lost hope of being saved.'"

"This is no isolated instance. It is typical of German practice throughout the war. And a nation that produces these submarine brutes and applauds their brutality must be beaten into submission for the future safety and happiness of the world."

REDUCED TRAIN SERVICE.

Passenger service on many railroads which has been growing beautifully less, is being steadily cut down. A recent order of Secretary McAdoo's reduced the number of trains each way between Chicago and St. Louis from fifteen to nine. Similar cuts are being made on other lines.

Our people are good natured and they will take some inconveniences patiently in war time. It should be remembered that if there are fewer trains, more care will be needed. It is not wise to carry reduction to the point where people have to stand in the aisles, as is being done on many roads. It would be preferable to run longer trains, and slow up the schedule a little, so that the heavier load can be pulled.

People can get along with the less frequent trains, if they study the timetables carefully. The more train schedules are advertised in the newspapers, the more familiar people will be with them, and the less grumbling there will be about missing trains.

When the baseballs begin to come into the kitchen windows from the back lot, where the boys are playing, then we know that sweet spring is truly here.

Some of the people who get so angry about the intrusiveness and impudence of newspapers, may merely be upset because their name has not been noticed in the paper lately.

The people who will kick the hardest because the war is prolonged, may be the same ones who have been complaining it by their untimely peace talk.

(News from the Bolshevik Front.)
 The retreat was hindered for a while by the capture of the Trans-Siberian railway having broken down. An old lady at Lusk had some dancing button with which repairs were made.

General Hrennitski, of the Red Guard, was decorated with the Order of the Bull yesterday for having captured certain military secrets to the enemy. "We need more horses like you," said Premier Lenin.

We had 50,000 rounds of ammunition yesterday for his battle to be held at Jinnikovsk, but were disappointed, as the local fight laws allow only ten rounds to a decision.

The battle of Jinnikovsk has been postponed until next week. When the date arrives our forces will not be so there.

Word has just been received that the Red Guard have captured an important town in the interior of Siberia. The name of the town is being sent on a string of flat cars. The telegraph company refused to assume the risk of sending it.

The Kaiser's messages to our noble army are becoming so pointed the telegraph company will soon have to use barbed wire.

Trotzky is sending friends our advance dates. We have played Petrograd, Moscow, Irsk, Yinsk, and Zinsk. Tomorrow we play Ogosh, Korea, if we can get there in time. These long jumps are fierce.

The cruiser, Dumshetok, which was brought from Petrograd, having been converted into a tank, has been abandoned. The upkeep was too costly, and, besides, we have plenty of tanks.

Trotzky has announced his plan of campaign. He expects to kill the Germans all off in a unique way. When they arrive at a place and find we are not there, they will die of charrin.

General Pototski's division of the Red Guard army numbered 200,000. He set back yesterday. They were moving rapidly in the direction of Vladivostok when they found that somebody had inadvertently removed the bridge over the river Ouse. The general commanded his Bolshevik followers to plunge into the water, but they refused to do so, claiming it was against the principles of the revolution. So the general and his army are marching around the river, which has its source in Bessarabia.

One of the worst engagements of the war has just taken place here. Prince Michaelovitch has announced that he is going to marry Aliz, daughter of the Siberian Belles-Bourgeois couple.

General Hrennitski is discouraged. He says, owing to the high price of beef, he isn't able to egg his troops on any longer.

THERE'S A LETTER FROM YOUR MOTHER.

(An incident of the signal corps related to us.)

He was on the line in Flanders, doing his duty with a flag.

He was telephone and wireless with that little bit of rag.

At the farthest point from safety he was standing at his post.

Picking up the information that his captain needed most.

When a flash behind the trenches caught his eye, he saw a messenger that was dancing through the sky.

He wondered what was coming from his fellow signal man.

Wondered what would be the order, as the lettering began.

He had done his trick of duty, he had been there through the day.

He was tired and he was hungry, and he wished to get away.

But he read the rapid waving, 'twas the news he'd wanted most.

"There's a letter from your mother waiting for you at the post!"

Over miles of dreary trenches, over friendly gun and fort.

Came each cheerful, flashing letter of the news he wished to know.

Through the heat and hate of battle and the smoke-filled atmosphere.

Came this little touch of kindness and not a stern command of duty, but a word of which to boast:

"There's a letter from your mother waiting for you at the post."

"There's a letter from your mother! Can't you picture now the joy that went danceling to the shell?"

Oh I don't know how to say it, but somehow it seems to me that in hearts so true as these are lie the souls of heroes.

Hate and lust will never triumph over boys who'll tell each other in the heat and clash of battle: "There's a letter from your mother."

MONSTER PATRIOTIC MEETING AT MYERS THEATRE TONIGHT

Charles Whitehair Y. M. C. A. Worker Who Has Spent Three Years On Battle Fronts Will Give Address

Everything is ready for the monster patriotic meeting that will be held at the Myers Theatre this evening. All arrangements have been completed, and a meeting that will be even larger than the ones held on last Sunday evening is anticipated. Reports have been received at the local liberty loan headquarters that have a tendency to prove that the citizens are going to turn out in masses for the meeting.

Charles W. Whitehair, the speaker of the evening, has had one of the most remarkable experiences of the war. He has been through the submarine zone thirteen times, has been on the battle line from Flanders to Egypt, and in all of the training camps of Europe and America. He has gone from end to end of the Suez Canal in a motor boat; has been at Verdun, at Ypres and every famous point on the western front. He has been on the battle front from 1915 to 1918.

As one of the chief workers of the Y. M. C. A., he has seen the soldiers of all our allies, and is fitted as any man is to write and talk about them. He has the vigor and the vision of youth, of sturdy American youth—for he was born on an Indiana farm. After graduating from the DePauw, he went into the Y. M. C. A. work, which carried him as far as India.

The committee in charge of the meeting this evening have received several letters from different parts of the country, endorsing the speaker, and claiming that he is by far the greatest authority on the war of any man in this country. William Ross, Director of Sales of the Seventh Federal Reserve District, in a telephone communication with Mr. A. P. Lovejoy, stated that Mr. Whitehair is the greatest orator that is traveling through the country in behalf of the Liberty loan and that the citizens of Janesville should not miss the opportunity of hearing the speaker. The meeting this evening is the only night address that Mr. Whitehair will give in Wisconsin.

Arrangements have been made to have the Bower City band give a short parade before going to the theatre, where they will give a concert. The stage has been reserved for the workers in the present campaign, and the committee requests that all of the workers take seats on the stage.

It is also requested that the people get to the theatre as soon after seven o'clock as possible to avoid any rush that may occur before the opening of the meeting, and also it will not cause any confusion in finding seats.

The meeting will be purely patriotic—no solicitation for bonds will be made. The speaker will address the audience on the present war, telling them of what he has witnessed while on the battle front in Europe. A. P. Lovejoy, chairman of the Janesville Liberty Loan committee, will preside this evening.

Dr. Carl Buenz, former director of the Hamburg-American line and convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government by making false manifestos, whose sentence of eighteen months in the Atlanta penitentiary had been deferred owing to the defendant's poor health, has been found physically fit to serve his sentence by Judge Howe of the federal court, New York. Whether or not Buenz will serve his sentence depends upon the decision of Attorney General Gregory, in whose hands all of the papers of the case have been placed.

C. H. Brigham, who is visiting in the city and the pastor, Rev. F. P. Lewis.

In the evening a social time was enjoyed and a songfest was led by C. R. Bearmore. Many of those present belonged to the choir, so the singing was very enthusiastic.

$15,000 FOR REPAIRS ON COUNTY BUILDINGS

SUPERVISORS UNANIMOUSLY AGREE ON APPROPRIATION OF LARGE SUM FOR REPAIRS AT COURT HOUSE AND ASYLUM

MUCH WORK TO BE DONE

Heating and Lighting System and Plumbing at Asylum and Poor Farm to Be Improved, Also Heating Plant at Court House

Without a dissenting vote, supervisors of Rock county in regular session at court house this afternoon, passed Supervisor Paulson's resolution appropriating $15,000 to the building committee for repairs and remodeling work at the county asylum and poor farm and at the court house. The sum of $9,500 is to be used to change the heating system, lighting system and for plumbing work at the asylum and also the heating system at the poor farm. The balance of the appropriation is to be used to improve the heating system at the court house. The entire appropriation is necessary to complete the work recommended by Supervisor Perrigo, chairman of the special investigating committee.

TAKE UP LEAD AND HEAD COMING. Supervisor Perrigo, chairman of the special investigating committee, took up the lead and head coming this morning for the improvements advocated. The cost of changing the heating system at the asylum, making it up to date in every respect was estimated at $6,700. Improvements in the plumbing system, which he called for, would cost $1,500. Work on the well, he estimated would cost $600 while the repairing and improving of the lighting system he said would cost approximately $500, making a total of $9,500.

In regard to the inadequate system at the court, Perrigo recommended improvements, the cost of which he estimated would be $5,500. He advised the purchase of two new boilers and a remodeling of the entire system, which he estimated would cost $4,500. He also recommended that soft coal at $4.36 a ton be burned at the court house instead of hard coal at $11.50. This he said would cut the cost of the improvements. One of the boilers is in poor condition while the other one would not last through another winter. The boiler in poor condition was temporarily repaired with iron cement.

Supervisor Denning submitted the report of county auditor No. 23, the report of money to pay fees of the sheriff, constables and police chiefs. The report was adopted and the money appropriated. Supervisor B. C. Hanson petitioned for county aid for a bridge in the town of Newark. His petition was referred to Committee No. 12.

Supervisor John Paul's motion that the county purchase for $100 the set of abstract books of the late Horace McElroy, was passed by an unanimous vote. The books will be a valuable addition to the county abstract records.

It was decided to hold a private sale of $20,000 worth of Rock County Highway Improvement Bonds at the county court house, Tuesday, April 23, at two o'clock. The bonds are in denominations of $100 each, numbered from 1 to 2,000 and are a part of the $65,000 bond issue voted at the January session of the board. They bear interest at the rate of five per cent. The remainder of the bonds will be sold from time to time as the money is needed for the construction and repair of the county highways.

At yesterday afternoon's session after voting to get plans and specifications for a county tuberculosis sanatorium, the board listened to the report of Supervisor W. S. Perrigo, chairman of the special committee, which investigated the county asylum and poor farm. His report recommended a number of changes was adopted and further consideration of the matter was postponed until today.

It was also voted yesterday to purchase a 12 by 20 ft. all-wool flag with stars sewed on both sides and with edges of the flag sewed under $500.00. The flag was ordered from the general fund to the mother's pension fund because the call upon this fund is about $1,000 per month and there is only $2,000 left on hand. County at Magnolia and Bradford was asked for by the supervisors. Their petitions were referred to Committee No. 12.

MATRIMONIAL

Katherine Anna Mills and Ira David Austin were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. S. Perrigo, Wednesday, April 17th. They were attended by the groom's brother, Lillian Mills. The bride was daintily dressed in the latest fashion, wore a white dress and the bridesmaids wore rose silk. As Mendelssohn's wedding march was being played the bride and groom proceeded between white ribbons to a ring of white flowers. The happy couple, joined by the happy couple. The double ring service was used. After a short wedding trip they will be at home on their farm west of Janesville. Eighty guests were at the wedding. Those from Janesville were, Rev. Perry Millar, Mrs. Nellie Austin, Julia and Josie Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Austin, Frank and Harvey Austin, and Estelle Nott.

FAILS TO REGISTER AS AN ALIEN ENEMY: HELD BY THE POLICE

Herman Bade, of Lake Mills, Taken in Custody by Chief of Police—Insane Man Also Behind the Bars.

Herman Bade, who claims that his home is in Lake Mills, is being held by the chief of police, charged with being an alien enemy who failed to register as required by the government. The U. S. marshal at Madison placed in Lincoln when questioned by the chief he said that his home was in Watertown, Illinois, and that it was a big city. As there is no such town as Watertown in Illinois, the chief said that he is a lost to find where he lives.

On his person was found a permit card from some institution giving him a period of absence from the city until sunset on January 21st. A Madison man arrested.

J. A. Minor, of Madison, was taken into custody this morning by Officers Gower and Cain after an exciting chase in the city. A telephone call was received this morning from Madison from Mrs. P. D. Banner, mother of the arrested man, in which she stated that her son had been in the city and had started in the direction of Janesville about two o'clock this morning. She asked that he be held until her arrival in the city. Information that Minor had started for Janesville, the police took the patrol and started down Main street after him. On the way back and by the time they could turn around he had a good start on them. The police followed up Main street and then up Milwaukee street, finally capturing him on Milton avenue.

Joe Zastoupil, after entering a plea of guilty to the charge of drunkenness in the municipal court this morning, was fined $10 and costs or fifteen days in jail. James Brock, a section worker, was fined $5 and costs or seven days in the city jail.

$700,000 HAS BEEN SUBSCRIBED FOR LOAN

CITIZENS OF JANESVILLE HAVE RESPONDED SPLENDIDLY AND COMMITTEE CONFIDENT THAT CITY WILL GET HONOR FLAG

WILL GET HONOR FLAG

A. P. Lovejoy Has Telegraphed to Washington for Honor Flag—Cannot Fly It Until Quota Has Been Subscribed.

JANESVILLE'S QUOTA, $800,000. SUBSCRIPTIONS TO DATE

.....$700,000

Janesville is going to have an honor flag to float from the city hall to tell the people that this city has responded to the call of the government and gone over the top in the Liberty Loan campaign. Although the quota has not been subscribed, the city has already received $700,000 of the $800,000 quota. The city has already received $700,000 of the $800,000 quota. The city has already received $700,000 of the $800,000 quota.

The stores in the city which employ a large number of girls have also made some surprising reports. The Golden Eagle, which employs a large number of girls, went over the top in the Liberty Loan with 100 per cent and they duplicated the stunt in the third loan, every employee purchasing at least one bond. Several other down town stores have made very fine showings with only one or two out of the place not buying bonds.

A. P. Lovejoy stated that a conservative estimate of the money subscribed up to this afternoon was $700,000. He further stated that he thought it would require at least until the middle of next week to get the final results. Mr. Lovejoy has telegraphed to the honor flag which will be shipped to St. G. Jeffris, chairman of the Rock County Liberty Loan committee. Mr. Jeffris is now in the city to turn the flag over to the local committee until the quota is raised. However, the men in charge of the campaign are confident of victory and are sure that the honor flag will come from the city hall within a few days.

A meeting of the city salesmen was held at the Grand Hotel this noon. About one hundred of the salesmen attended and all of them made very gratifying reports.

Several country meetings have been held within the past few days and others are scheduled for the balance of the week. The four minute speakers are playing a very prominent part in the present campaign and are continuing their work for an indefinite period.

ALLEGED THIEF IS CAUGHT BY RUSE

Dumping of empty egg cases in the street and changing license number just outside of Janesville, and a clever ruse done by the chief of police, Fred Gilman, of Evansville, proved the undoing of Frank Munroe, aged 32 years, who is charged with stealing a five passenger Ford car of A. E. Lowe of Cross Plains from in front of the Washington building at Madison Monday afternoon.

The car was stolen about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and an hour later Munroe is alleged to have dumped the egg cases bearing the name of Mr. Lowe and changed the license number. A further report of the dumping of the cases to Chief of Police Gilman of Evansville. Gilman called up "Cross Plains" but was told that no one by the name of Lowe had lived in the town. Lowe has not lived long at "Cross Plains." The chief then called up the sheriff's office at Madison to ascertain whether a car had been stolen in Danbury county. He learned the name of the Lowe auto.

Determined to apprehend the alleged thief Gilman and his assistants started in pursuit. The branches out on different roads, stopped at every farmhouse and when they arrived at a farm eight miles west of Madison late at night they learned that a stranger had put up there for the night. Munroe was placed under arrest and taken to the Evansville lockup. A new license number was found on the car.

Detective McElmick of Madison went to Evansville yesterday morning and brought the car and the alleged thief back with him. According to the police they found a bill of sale for the stolen car on Munroe's person. This led the police to believe that Munroe belongs to a gang of professional auto thieves.

Mr. Lowe paid a reward of $50 to Chief Gilman.

Notice: The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Society will be held at the church parlors Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Cabinet meeting at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of the missionary society.

PUNISHMENT OF CRIME
DISCUSSED YESTERDAY

In connection with the punishment for crime, which was the subject listed for study by the Athena Class at their meeting held yesterday at Library hall, Mrs. L. L. Beers gave a comprehensive resume of the book, "Canada Blackie." This is a new book, which takes up the life story of a convict, who, after descending to the lowest stratum of life, works out his own redemption—when given a chance. He was a run away boy who joined a circus troupe, and did well enough until a companion was killed by his mischance, then he sickened of the life. He drifted into crime, and after several terms in prison and reform schools, served several years in the penitentiary. Here in Auburn prison he became known to Thomas Osborn, who was just beginning to study the question of reform, and he was a useful adjunct to the work of Osborn at this time, giving him many hints in forming his plans.
A welfare league was formed among the convicts themselves, which made their own regulations, and tried those who committed misdemeanors. Blackie was ill, and after Osborn was made warden of Sing Sing, he was transferred there for better treatment. He died in prison, but not before receiving a pardon from the governor of the state, given to him for meritorious work among the prisoners. Osborn has since enlarged and made better his system in the prison, giving the men the advantages of education, of libraries, and of out-door exercises, with the privilege of conversation with each other.
The next meeting of the club will be a business meeting, held in two weeks, with a social held as a last meeting of the year, in four weeks. For the latter event, Mrs. Bates, Mrs.

Sowle and Mrs. Judd are to serve as a social committee, and Mrs. Loomis, Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. Wool as an entertainment committee.

CONGRESS WILL SOON MAKE THE PLANS FOR TAKING 1920 CENSUS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 18.—Congress will soon be faced with the necessity of providing millions of dollars for the 1920 census.

Just what inquiries will be made at every American home is the problem now being worked out, before determining upon the exact appropriation needed. Census Director Rogers estimates that the total cost of the census, including the annual and other inquiries occurring during the decennial census period, if done in accordance with plans the census bureau has formulated, will not exceed $20,000,000 to $22,000,000. The estimated cost of taking the population census alone is $10,440,000.

Besides considering population, the bureau plans to contemplate the usual elaborated inquiries on manufactures, agriculture, mines and quarries, animal special inquiries and other work. This includes vital statistics, statistics of cities and states, tobacco, cotton and cottonseed products. Taken collectively, Director Rogers says that the estimated cost of various lines of work would run, manufactures, mines and quarries, $2,593,000; agriculture, $3,042,000, mostly for field work; population, $10,440,000. The expenditures for the census of 1910 were about $15,000,000.

The census bureau is receiving many suggestions for extension of the usual field of nation-wide enumeration. There has been a great demand to know the stock of hides, leather, and manufacture of saddles, shoes, boots, belting and leather output, including wool drawn from the hides of kids and sheep that goes into the manufacture of woolen goods. The Tanners' Council, an organization of the tannery owners, is getting that information now and furnishing it to the government at a cost of $30,000 to $50,000. They collect statistics of raw material, different kinds of leather, amount in stock as well as the cured or finished product. But the census bureau proposes to ascertain more than that. The bureau wants to know the uses to which the raw material and manufactured product are to be put, the stock on hand, consumption by the manufacturers and the prospect of having a supply for the country's future needs, all of which delves into the field of shoes, boots, saddles, belting, harness and many finished products of value. The census will gather this information by mail and through special agents.

Despite criticisms of belated census reports in past years, Director Rogers says the population of the United States could be ascertained and made public in less than six months, and likewise the number of farms, by counties and by states, and that any other information on which the government wanted quick results could be sent out promptly. He says the fuel administration, war trade board, tariff commission and internal revenue bureau could make daily use of the basic census facts.

Before the house census committee, which is about to frame the necessary legislation, there has been considerable criticism of a limiting provision proposed by the census bureau that "in no case shall information furnished under the authority of this act be used to the detriment of the person or persons to whom such information relates." Representative Miller of Washington contended that the information should be permitted such use as a court or governor might see fit, as it is not a judicial or inquisitorial proceeding. Representative Houston, Pennsylvania, contends the clause is futile.

Director Rogers thinks the individual has the personal right to keep private information from other persons; that manufacturers, for instance, are willing to tell the census about their business for statistical purposes but do not want publicity of it and, if they knew it were to be published, they would not give the information at all or would do so under protest. Chairman Helm of the committee believes they do not want to give their trade secrets away.

"An individual informs the census of his father and mother, his age, and where he was born and where he lived at a certain time," explained Mrs. Rogers. "Now in the selective draft he is questioned about his age, nationality, and identity. That man is to be prosecuted upon the statement he made to the census. I would refuse to give information to anyone other than to the local constituted authority for the annoyance or prosecution of that man. If the court were to issue an order that the state's interests are involved and it is my duty to certify the record as it was given at a particular time, I would do so. The same kind of question comes up as to an estate and the census does not want to be used in the courts to the prejudice of any man who makes a confidential statement. It is discretionary with the director."

Director Rogers said he would not protest against elimination of the disputed provision.

Birmingham, Ala., April 18.—The greatest industrial war drama in the history of the south is being enacted at Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee river in northwestern Alabama.

Developments of tremendous importance to the United States in both times of war and peace are being rushed to completion there at a cost of $70,000,000.

The government has already well under construction two emergency nitrate plants that will extract nitrogen from the air for use in preparation of ammonium nitrate, so essential to the manufacture of gun cotton, smokeless powder and other high explosives used in war, and for making of high grade fertilizer so necessary to the restoration of soil fertility both in war and peace.

President Wilson has also authorized the construction of power and navigation dam No. 2 of the Tennessee river at Muscle Shoals in which the United States army engineers have recommended ultimate installation of hydro-electric machinery for generating 450,000 horsepower.

Nitrate plant No. 1, it is announced, will be in operation during June. An army of 2,200 men is employed on the work alone. The plant will manufacture thirty tons of nitrates per day by the synthetic ammonia process of air-nitrogen fixation. It will also consume one hundred tons of coke per day and from one to two tons of dolomite. The remainder of the raw material will come from the atmosphere.

The plant will manufacture its own coke. It will also have its own 5,000 horsepower steam plant.

Seven thousand workmen are engaged in the construction of nitrate plant No. 2 and this force will be increased it is expected to 15,000 before the plant is completed. It will employ a permanent force of 5,000 men. This plant will probably be turning out nitrates in August.

Power to drive this $30,000,000 plant will be furnished by a 60,000 horsepower steam plant and by a steam power plant of the Alabama Power company on the Warrior river. The steam power plants will be used pending the building of big power dam No. 2 on the Tennessee river. This dam will generate a minimum of 120,000 horse power at the lowest point.

Work has been started on dam No. 2, which will be the largest concrete dam in the world. Over 1,300,000 cubic feet of materials will be required. Preliminary estimates place the cost at $16,000,000. Three or four years will be required for its construction. The probable initial installation will provide 350,000 hydro-electric horsepower.

CHAPTER X.

O'Reilly's Plans Fail.

In the days that followed his call on Tugato Alvarado, O'Reilly behaved so openly that the secret service agent detailed to watch him relaxed his vigilance. Manifestly this O'Reilly was a harmless person. But the spy did not guess how frantic Johnnie was coming at the delay, how he inwardly chafed and fretted when two weeks had rolled by and still no signal had come. Then, too, his money was running low.

At last, however, the day arrived when the man with the gray necktie raised his hat and wiped his brow as he passed the Isla de Cuba. Johnnie could scarcely hold himself in his chair. By and by he rose, stretching himself, and sauntered after the fellow. For several blocks he kept him in sight, but without receiving any further sign.

Without a glance over his shoulder the man turned into a large, walled enclosure. When Johnnie followed he found himself in one of the old cemeteries. Ahead of him, up a shady avenue bordered with trees, the stranger hurried; then he swerved to his left, and when O'Reilly came to the point where he had disappeared there was nobody in sight. Apprehending that he had made some mistake in the signal, O'Reilly hastened down the walk. Then at last, to his great relief, he heard a distant:

"Pss! Pss!"

It came from behind a screen of shrubbery, and there he found the Cuban waiting. The latter began rapidly:

"Our plans are complete. Listen closely. One week from today, at ten o'clock in the morning, you must be in Manin's drug store. Directly across the street you will see two negroes with three horses. At fifteen minutes past ten walk out San Rafael street to the edge of the city, where the hospital sounds. The negroes will follow you. There is a fort near by—"

"I know."

It commands the road. You will be challenged if you pass it, so turn in at the hospital. But do not enter the gates, for the negroes will overtake you at that point. They will stop to adjust the saron of this lead horse. That will be your signal; mount him and ride fast. Now, adios and good luck."

With a smile and a quick grip of the hand the messenger walked swiftly away. O'Reilly returned to his hotel. At last! One week, and this dumb, heartbreaking delay would end; he would be free to take up his quest. But those seven days were more than a week; they were seven eternities. The hours were like lead; O'Reilly could compose his mind to nothing; he was in a fever of impatience.

The day of days dawned at last, and Johnnie was early at Manin's soda fountain, drinking insipid beverages and anxiously watching the street. In due time the negroes appeared, their straw sarons laden with produce which they innocently disposed of. O'Reilly began to consult his watch with such frequency that the druggist joked him. Manin's banter was interrupted by a bugle call. Down the street came perhaps two hundred mounted troops. They wheeled into San Rafael street at a gallop and disappeared in the direction of the suburbs.

"Now, what does that mean?" murmured the druggist. "Wait here while I go to the roof, where I can see something."

O'Reilly tried to compose himself, meanwhile becoming aware of a growing excitement in the street. Then from the direction of the fort at the end of San Rafael street sounded a faint rattling fusillade, more bugle calls, and finally the thin, distant shouting of men.

"Rebels!" someone cried.

"Dios mio, they are attacking the city!"

"They have audacity, eh?"

The roofs were black with people now. Manin came hurrying down into the store.

"Something has gone wrong," he whispered. "They're fighting out yonder in the woods. There has been some treachery."

"It is ten-fifteen," said O'Reilly. "I must be going."

Manin stared at him. "You don't understand—"

"Those black fellows are getting their horses ready. I'm going."

The druggist tried to force Johnnie into a chair. "Madman!" he panted.

"I tell you our friends have been betrayed; they are retreating. Go back to your hotel quickly."

For the first time during their acquaintance Manin heard the good-natured American curse; O'Reilly's blue eyes were blazing; he had let go of himself completely.

"I'm going!" he cried hoarsely. "All the d—d Spaniards in Cuba won't stop me. I've waited too long—I should have made a break—"

"Fifteen!" stormed the druggist. "You wish to die, eh?"

O'Reilly ripped out another oath and fought off the other's restraining hands.

"Very well, then," cried Manin, "but have some thought of us who have risked our lives for you. Suppose you should escape? How would our troops receive you now? Would they not think you had cunningly arranged this trap?"

A light of reason slowly reappeared in the younger man's eyes.

"No!" Manin pressed his advantage. "You must wait until—"

He broke off abruptly and stepped behind his counter, for a man in the uniform of a Spanish lieutenant had entered the store.

The newcomer walked directly to O'Reilly; he was a clean-cut, alert young fellow. After a searching glance around the place he spoke in a voice audible to both men:

"Senior, you are in danger. Tonight, at midnight, you will be arrested. Beg of you to see that there is nothing incriminating in your possession."

O'Reilly's face betrayed his amazement. "Arrested? What for? On what charge?"

The stranger shrugged. "I don't know. That newspaper man will be arrested at the same moment, so you had better warn him. But be careful where and how you do so, for all his movements are watched, all his words are overheard."

"Why do you tell me this—you? Is it some scheme to—"

O'Reilly inquired.

Manin was leaning over the counter, his face drawn with anxiety, his lips framing the same question.

"No!" The lieutenant shook his head. "I am a friend—a Cuban, in spite of this uniform. If you repeat my words I shall be shot within the hour."

O'Reilly's face betrayed his amazement. "Arrested? What for? On what charge?"

The stranger shrugged. "I don't know. That newspaper man will be arrested at the same moment, so you had better warn him. But be careful where and how you do so, for all his movements are watched, all his words are overheard."

of his business, so we shall escort him to Neuvitas and see him safely out of the country, once for all."

"And yet you permit me to remain?"

Johnnie was surprised.

"For the present, rest. That is my official message to you. Privately, however," the speaker eyed O'Reilly with a disconcerting expression—"I would like to warn you. You are a bright fellow, and you have a way with you—there's no denying it. Under other conditions it would be a pleasure to know you better. It grieves me, therefore, to warn you that your further stay in Cuba will not be pleasant. I almost regret that there is no conclusive evidence against you; it would so simplify matters. Come, now, hadn't you better acknowledge that I have guessed your secret?"

O'Reilly's perplexity was changing to dismay, for it seemed to him he was being played with; nevertheless, he shook his head. "I would only be deceiving you, sir," he said.

NINTH IS THE LUCKY
INNING FOR DETROIT

DETROIT, Mich., April 18.—With the Detroit baseball club abandon its slugging hit and run attack this season.

Ninth inning rather a the Tigers have or even been one of the classes of American league baseball. Veterans fans usually wait for the "big show" to be put on in the ninth inning when their team is behind and very often their faith has not been shaken.

"Wild Bill" Donovan, former manager of the New York Americans, who is now coach of the Detroit pitchers, is an opponent of the hit and run system. Manager Jennings has been inclined to favor it at times. Donovan insists that the play is faulty much more often than it is a success, while members of the club who believe in the hit and run assert that the value is unquestionable and is likely to break up a game at any time.

Show me a club that uses the hit and run to any extent and I will show you a club that inevitably is in the second division," said Donovan. He has gone on record by declaring that Eddie Foster of Washington is the only real hit and run batsman in the American league and he politely informed the "Tiger" slingers that the Detroit club has not had an effective hit and run man since "Dutch" Schaefer left.

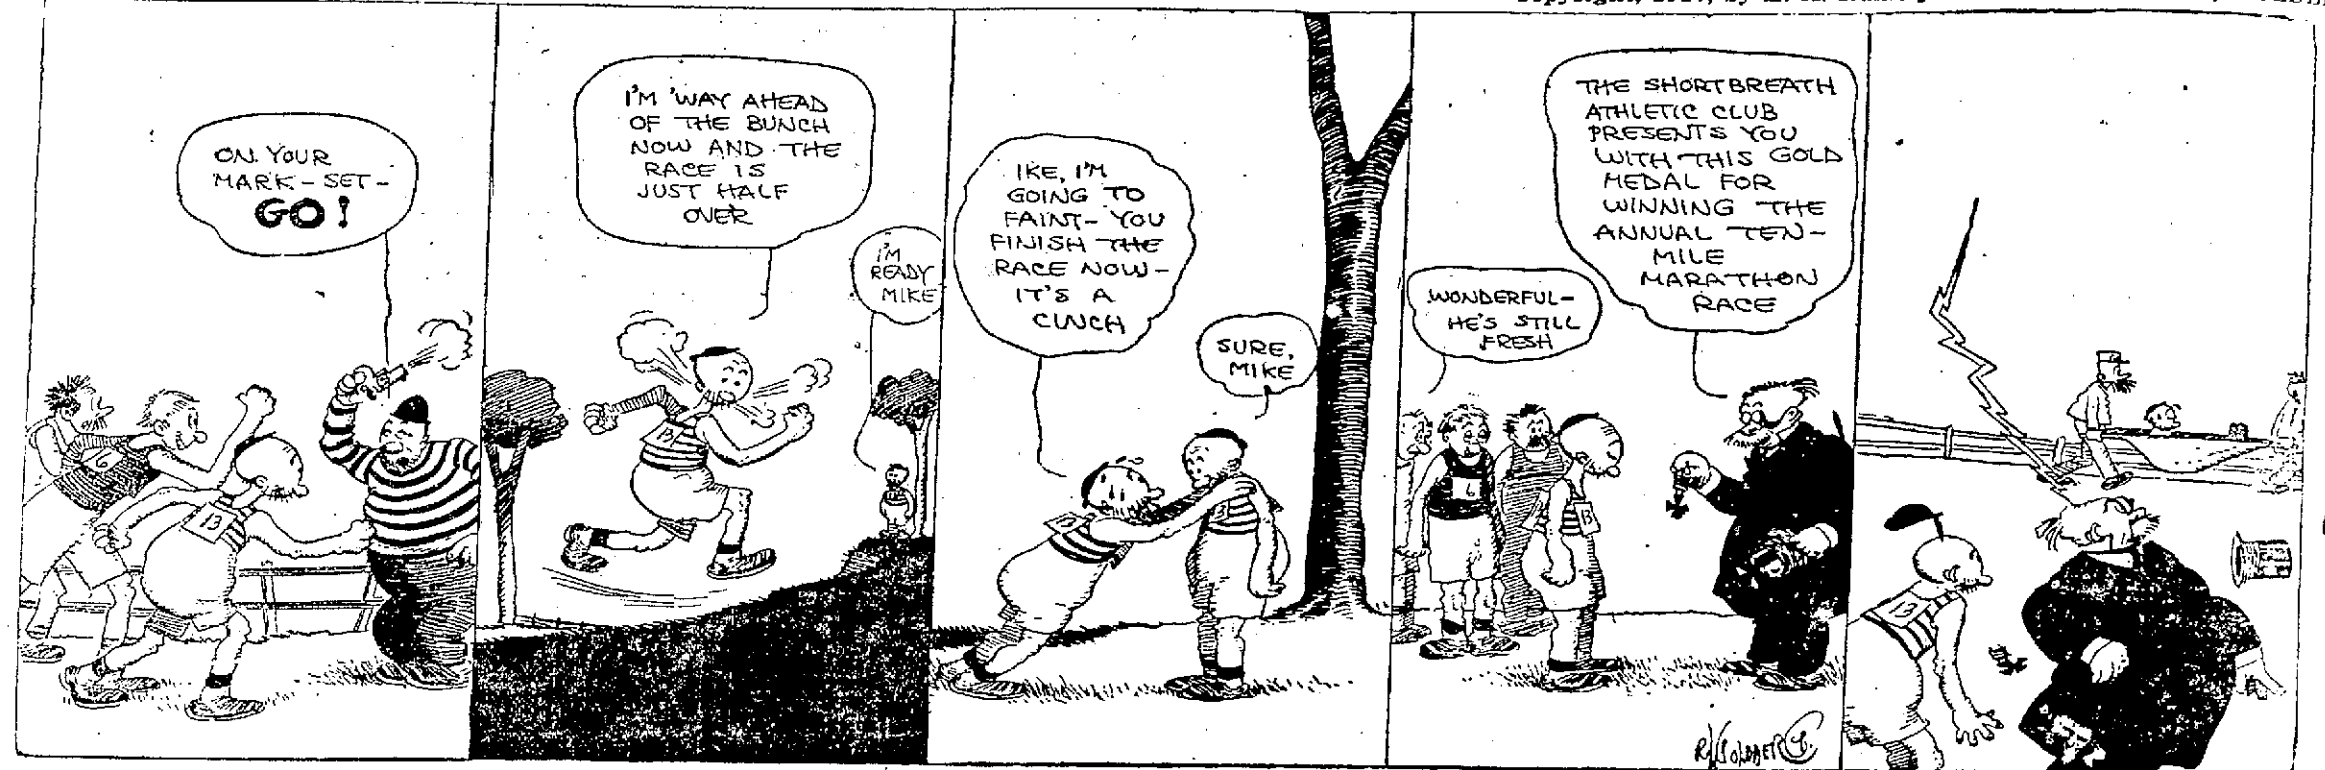

Jennings, it is understood, has agreed with Donovan's theory, but still holds to the view that the use of the hit and run play, as a surprise, is unquestionably valuable.

One argument in Donovan's favor is the fact that Oscar Stange, the Detroit catcher, has won many a game for Detroit by anticipating a hit and run play and breaking it up by calling for a waste ball.

Two veteran outfielders, have joined Joe Tinker's team in Chicago. They are Al Sweitzer, who used to play with St. Louis, Memphis and Rochester, and Joe Birmingham, longtime manager of the Cleveland Naps.

We have received reports that some of the clubs are reticent to be practice of requiring players to put up a deposit to guarantee return of uniform and sweaters at the close of the season. Oh, yes, it's on account of the war.

MIKE AND IKE—THEY LOOK ALIKE

MORRIS MILLER

Jack Dempsey, "the sensational Colorado heavyweight," as his literature styles him, has temporarily sidestepped Tom Cowley, and has also sidestepped the date of his match with Billy Miske moved up to the first week in May. Dempsey has been meeting a lot of set-ups and knocking them cold in one round. On at least two occasions he is known to have palmed off former sparring partners on listie promoters. This is bad stuff and leads to the suspicion that he isn't all there. The Cowley contest would have given us a good line on his abilities, but now we will have to wait until the Miske affair. And it isn't any certainty that Miske, even if he is as good as his manager claims will manhandle Miske. Billy is a clever boxer, much cleverer than Dempsey, and a hard puncher. Furthermore he has a legitimate reputation. Only recently he went ten rounds with Fred Fulton, and not only held his own but received the verdict from two newspaperers.

DO YOU KNOW THAT Bennie Kauf's right arm is six inches shorter than his left?

Some of our ball players don't seem to regard Uncle Sam or the war as serious propositions. Fred Toney, the Red Sox pitcher, is threatened with imprisonment for trifling with the exemption regulations. Now comes word that Ed Pfeffer of the Brooklyn club has been drafted for patriotic stunt. It will be recalled that last December the player announced that he felt it his duty to enter the service of his country and that he had enlisted in the naval reserve. Now it seems there was some slip in his intentions that smacks of nothing but camouflage intended to draw out the Brooklyn club for purchase of a better contract. Pfeffer claims now that he did not enlist at the Great Lakes naval station, but with the U. S. S. Gopher, and that he is now awaiting a call for service. The baseball authorities consider it strange that of all the players who offered themselves to the government Pfeffer alone remains uncalled. The matter has been taken up with the naval authorities. In the meantime the Brooklyn club has placed Pfeffer on the "retired" list.

The April hold-out comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb.

THEY'LL COP AGAIN WITHOUT JACK

Though the loss of Jack Hendricks will mean quite a bit to the Indianapolis Indians, the bunch seems sure they'll cop the Association rag again this season. Bronkie, who is manager pro tem, declares that the boys are showing their best pep in practice at Hattiesburg, Miss., the Indians' training camp, and he expects them to look as good this year as last.

of the hardest hitters in baseball, has signed with the Los Angeles club in the Coast league. Larry was with Cleveland for more than ten years and enjoyed a similar hitting record. Last year he went to Toronto and set such a fiendish pace with the stick that the end of the season found him at the top of the league's list of hitters. The result was the majors fell all over themselves trying to sign him this spring. Maybe Samuel Wahoo won't do as brilliantly with Los Angeles as Larry did in the International, but we'll make a nice sized wager just now that the old boy will be among the first five hitters at the end of the Coast season next fall.

Do you know that Walter Johnson and Grover Alexander, the swiftest pitchers in the majors, led their leagues in strikeouts last year?

The appointment of Dick Hobitzel as field captain of the Red Sox may be taken to indicate that Manager Ed Barrow does not let Johnny Rivers get in the game very regularly this season.

Frank Walker, the Central league slugger whom the Tigers tried to waive out of the league during the winter only to be blocked by the Cubs, now seems to have won the outfield utility berth with Jennings' team. This goes to show that it pays to look over a ball player before declaring him no good.

EPISCOPALIANS BOW TO PRESBY BOWLERS

Episcopalian bowlers and Presbyterian churchmen clashed last night in three rollings on the Y. M. C. A. alleys and the Presbyterians easily walked away with all of them. Although the game from the standpoint of high scoring was a fizzle, the teams were evenly matched and the game did not at any time lack in interest. George Kalvelage played the stellar roll during all games for the Episcopaliens but despite his pin classic the Episcopaliens had to take the tail end of the series. No exceptional bowling was noticed in the Presbyterian headquarters but they played a more consistent game throughout. The score follows:

Whitewater News

Whitewater, April 18.—The declamatory contest of the commercial high school of the normal was held Tuesday in the assembly room. There were six speakers, three representing the Jeannette Rankin Debating club, and three the Eustace Debating club. The winning piece was a cutting from "The Melting Pot," as given by Florence Kildow. The winning oration, "A Vision of War and the Future," by Willard Taylor. Both winners will represent the school at the district contest to be held at Delavan, May 3.

William J. Thompson, who was buried from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Smith, April 15, was born at Little Prairie, Wis., February 28, 1849. His entire life has been spent in Walworth and Rock counties, with the exception of one year in Texas. In 1873 he was married to Jennie E. Terwilliger, and to this union a son, Earl W. Thompson of Allens Grove, and a daughter, Mrs. Ralph H. Smith, were born. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson returned to this city but a month ago, purchasing the John Plagier farm just east of town, intending to spend their declining years near their daughter. Those from away who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoefel of Chicago, Mrs. Holcomb of Palmyra, Will Burton, Mrs. George Burton and daughter, and Mrs. A. Merry and daughter of East Troy. Also Mr. and Mrs. Dunham and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Packard and Elbridge Packard of Delavan.

Rev. L. M. Stewart left yesterday for Norwalk to attend the Wisconsin conference of Evangelical association, being held in that city from April 22 to 26. He has been a member of the conference since 1882. Mr. Stewart will be moved to another charge. The work of finishing the paving of Whitewater street has commenced. Ed. Bartlett, who has the contract, having started work yesterday. There is little probability that a new contract will be let this season.

Civil Ludtke, Henry Pehly, Floyd Simonson and Alvin Grankie, who have been attending commercial high school at the normal, have gone to work on farms. If their work proves satisfactory to the farmer, they will receive credit for the rest of the school year.

Mrs. A. McManus left Wednesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. L. Downey at Hattiesburg, N. D.

Mrs. John Anderson, who has been visiting her cousin, K. Knudsen, left for her home in Burlington, South Dakota, Wednesday.

Arthur Cook left yesterday for New York City. He is called into the service as a photographer.

Various rumors coming out of the camp of the Cubs indicate that Manager Mitchell is not fully satisfied that Fred Merkle can get away with the first basing job. We read that "Catcher" Tom Daly is to be used at first and then comes the odd news that the Cubs are trying to get Jake Daubert from Brooklyn. We are told that the only trouble with Merkle is his legs. And haven't we known for a couple of seasons that Daubert's under-pinnings are bad?

MILK PRODUCERS HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT

LARGE NUMBER OF FARMERS ATTEND MEETING AT WEST SIDE ODD FELLOWS HALL, WEDNESDAY EVENING—SITUATION CLEARED.

ALL MUST CO-OPERATE

Mr. Chapell Explains Present Condition to Farmers and Tells Members That They Must Co-operate at This Time.

Dark clouds which had been gathering for several weeks on the horizon of the milk situation in Rock County were lifted last evening at a special meeting of the Rock County Milk Producers' association and S. J. Chapell, of the Kees and Chapell Dairy Company of Chicago, at the West Side Odd Fellows' hall, when the producers decided to bear the losses in the dairy business which are now being made due to the unusual conditions, equally, says Mr. Chapell said, "hold the bag together, with the distributors. It is a hard time, but a complete surplus has caused a considerable flurry which has been cleared up."

The climax of the milk situation arrived when the farmers received their monthly milk checks recently sent forward by the distributors deducted from them the cost of handling. This aroused a tremendous feeling of distrust and anger among the farmers, who did not understand the action which had been taken. Mr. Chapell said that the distributors were not to be blamed for this, but that the situation was a result of the present milk conditions in the country.

The substance of the milk situation in the country, as Mr. Chapell explained it last night, is that there is now in the country a surplus of milk, which is being shipped to Europe and is being sold at a price which is not sufficient to cover the cost of production. He also said that there is now on the docks at New York City more than one and one-half million cases of condensed milk which is awaiting shipment to Europe and which has been on the docks for the past three months. But the outlook, he said, is that the milk, or rather the shipping, question will be relieved by October and that up to then all producers, distributors and consumers should get together and bear their losses equally and not let the situation be dictated by John L. Fisher, stated, "the college professors, amateurs or the other side of the street who want to get another 'jug handle price' fixed by a commission of men who know nothing of the milk business and who have absolutely no interest in it. Mr. Fisher also pleaded for a closer co-operation during the present crisis of all men and companies in the milk business."

One of the strong statements of Mr. Chapell was of the enormous accumulation of milk in the country at present, saying that the production of milk during the last year amounted to thirty-one million pounds and that the United States only uses thirteen million pounds and that most of this excess milk is still in the country and that for the past few months it has been moving out at the rate of 50,000 pounds a month.

Milk distributors in the country have been trying for some time to have the government take over about twenty or thirty million cases of the milk which is now stored in the country so as to liquidate the assets of the milk producers and distributors so that they in turn could take the milk from the farms and still pay the commission prices. But up to the present time this has been impossible. Mr. Fisher, who was West Administration Hoover's special agent to investigate the milk situation in Chicago at the time of the milk strike, recommended such action.

Mr. Chapell also pointed out that the milk can now be bought from any condenser in the country at a little over $4.00 per case and it is a certainty that the milk will be at least $5.00 per case in October and could make approximately $1.50 on every case. He also stated that the largest condenser plants had used up all their resources and must sell in order to continue in the business. He illustrated the case of the Carnation Milk company, one of the largest condensers in the field, who are now in such a position that they cannot do business any longer at the rate which they have been going for the past six months and continue in the business. He also stated that the Borden Condensery had closed down more than fifty plants in the last few months and that Kees & Chapell dairy company had been losing at the rate of $12,000 per month for the past three months and that the time has come when they cannot lose any more and still stay in business, and for this reason the farmers will have to stand a pro rata loss until the milk situation is somewhat relieved. He expected that this would take about three months and that ice cream season in the summer would greatly help to even things up. In regard to getting the commission price in business, Mr. Chapell said, "We will try to sell the milk wherever possible and try to get the best price for it and do everything possible so that the commission price can be paid, but that this is not probable at present, but we need your cooperation to help us and yourselves tide over the present crisis and still play in business. Self preservation is the first law of nature."

He spoke of the work they were doing in Chicago to sell their milk in a market that was already overflowing. He condemned some of the food conservation propaganda which is now so seriously affecting the milk situation. He said that his company alone has lost nearly 35 per cent of its trade through that propaganda and he said that milk was and is now the cheapest and most wholesome food which people can be bought and it is now practically a drug on the market.

One of the things which the company is doing to aid all concerned in the milk situation is the local Kees and Chapell plant for the manufacture of powdered milk out of the skimmed milk, which he said could possibly be sold to the government at a profit. Instead of making cottage cheese is more advisable because it is easier handled and does not use the space in installing the machinery. In the Janesville plant they are expending considerable money so that all may be benefited until the milk situation clears.

During his talk Mr. Chapell made special emphasis on the importance to the dairymen of staying in business, saying that there are no dairies anywhere in Europe and that dairies in the United States will be called upon to supply this market and can then make up for the losses which they now sustain. He said that he would make nearly ten years before Europe would be in condition to begin to supply its own demand for milk.

Mr. Chapell called to the attention of the producers that some time in June the milk price will again be set. All the parties or persons interested will meet in Mr. Wheeler's office in Chicago and talk things over around the table among themselves and that all should co-operate now to fix the price at that time without the aid of a commission.

A meeting of a committee of producers was held with Mr. Chapell before he attended the gathering at the West Side Odd Fellows' hall and he presumed that they also reached a favorable understanding. Practically all members left the hall with the feeling that closer co-operation was necessary and that the various misunderstandings of the past have been cleared up.

Lands War Department. Green Bay, Wis., April 18.—Critics of the war department and its president are ignorant of the tremendous strides in war preparedness made by the United States or they would boast rather than knock. In the opinion of Lieut. John Martin in a letter to his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Martin of this city, Lieut. Martin, who has been in France several weeks, says in part of his letter, "We still see in some American papers we get here that the press is greatly criticizing our war department, our president, etc. Well, you can tell those knockers for me if they could only see one-half the work the government has accomplished since we entered the war they would really be ashamed of their ignorance, because it is pure ignorance. We have accomplished the impossible and if the critics could see they surely would stop their chattering."

Safety by Surrender

By REV. B. B. GUTCLIFFE
Extension Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Let him take hold of my strength.—Isa. 27:3.

The passage from which this text is taken is a call from the Lord for his enemies, both the ungodly and also his backslidden people, to turn to him before his judgment falls. He declares he will come among them as a fire among briars. He offers them safety by surrender to him and issues the call of this text. His judgment is sure to fall and power will be needed to avoid it. Where can this power be found and safety secured? Not by fleeing away but by drawing near. Not by opposing him but by yielding to him. To the sinner and the backslider the Lord appears as an enemy. To yield or surrender to any enemy seems like folly, the rushing into danger. But yielding to the Lord means safety. And so this call to surrender to the Lord is also a call for the exercise of faith in the Lord as the protector from his own sure coming judgment. To human reason escape would seem to be impossible. How can we escape the righteous judgment of God after having incurred it by our own conduct? It is not possible with man, but with God all things are possible. Failure is not in him, but in imperfect yielding to him.

A Possible Thing. The text says: "Let him take hold of my strength." There is no obstacle to be overcome except the inherent unbelief of the human heart. Each one is afflicted with this. It is the hindering thing that opposes all safety, certainty or enjoyment. It is the one common sin of which all are guilty and by which all the more or less bound. It is the sin which so easily besets us. But it is possible to overcome it. When we come to the place where real desire exists to escape the judgment of God, there are no real hindrances; we may if we will, take hold of his strength and in it find safety.

A Personal Thing. "Let him take hold of my strength." I live for myself and not for another. I sin for myself. I am judged for myself. And if I find safety, if I escape the judgment, I will find for myself and escape for myself. None else can get it for me. It is a personal matter. In the center of my own will lies the answer as to whether I shall go down to eternal defeat under the judgment of God, or whether I shall rise superior to all the future holds of wrath. I go down by opposing myself to God; I rise by yielding to him. I find eternal death by fighting him; eternal life by surrendering to him. It is my own choice which I shall have.

A Peculiar Thing. "Let him take hold of my strength." I cannot take hold of his strength until I let go of that which I now hold. All the things I have relied upon to see me safely through the judgment I must relinquish. I must have no hope in my good deeds, by religious experiences, my moral code, my high aspirations—yes, I must have no hope in myself. Like Job of old I must come to the Lord saying, "I abhor myself." Like Paul, "There dwelleth no good thing in me." Myself and my goodness are my weapons against him. I must lay them down and in full and unconditional surrender of myself to him I will find safety in the surrender. It is therefore, as was said above, a call for faith in him. He can free me from bondage, guard me from harm and protect me from certain disaster only as I trust him. Until I do so I will find that he cannot do any work on my behalf because of my unbelief. It is unbelief which erects the barrier. In the case of the army facing certain annihilation, only one thing remains to be done, and that is surrender if death be not preferred. As long as the weapons are used and battle offered, the destruction is certain. The sinner faces certain perdition—he fights against the judgment and wrath of God. There is no escape, and can be none save by the way of surrender. When the surrender is made, he finds that the supposed enemy is really a friend and what was thought to be the worst thing is seen to be the best. Instead of God desiring to injure, he finds all of God's desire is to protect from injury. How strange that the one injured should be the one who can and will guard the sinner from the effects of the injury.

A Powerful Thing. With man's strength it would be impossible, but the text says, "Let him take hold of my strength" and with God all things are possible. There is nothing too hard for his performance for he has omnipotence. Nothing too deep for his understanding, for he is omniscient. Nothing too far for him to reach, for he is omnipresent. Power belongeth unto God and he is ready, nay eager, to exercise on behalf of all who will cease fighting him and yield themselves to him. How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?

NORMAL MILK SUPPLY URGED FOR CHILDREN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 18.—That the high cost of milk will not deter Wisconsin parents from giving their children their normal supply of milk is the hope expressed by state health authorities. An example of the deleterious effect of cutting down the children's daily portion of milk is cited by the children's bureau in a report of a survey made in Baltimore, Md. It was found that many parents of small income have substituted tea and coffee in the children's diet. From a health point of view there is no substitute for milk for growing children. The Baltimore findings and reports from other large cities point to decreased nutrition and retarding of the growth of babies and little children who are not allowed sufficient milk for their needs.

Of 756 Baltimore children between 2 and 7 years of age, only 28 per cent are now having fresh milk to drink as against 80 percent a year ago. Only 20 of this whole number are having as much as three cups a day. The needs of children under 7, however, are given better consideration.

The most serious feature is the general substitution of tea and coffee for milk in the children's diet, says the children's bureau. Of 575 children who are not drinking milk, 44 percent have definitely substituted tea and coffee, and 24 percent are "sharing the family diet," which may or may not include tea or coffee, or milk in other foods. Various incomes are reported, but the changes in the amount of milk consumed are not unlike in the different earnings groups. Some mothers, the bureau says, seem to realize that milk must be provided at whatever sacrifice, others who can best afford to buy milk do not understand its importance and let their children go without it.

IT'S GOT TO BE APRIL. "It's got to be April before it is May." That's something my father would frequently say. With the rain peltin' down an' the air full of gloom, He thought of the time when the poppies would bloom. An' it seems to me now, through all moments o' dread, He saw but the splendor that waited ahead. He never believed in a permanent woe, Whatever his trouble he knew it would go. An' this was the lesson that from him I learned, The joy that's worth while is the joy that is earned.

The view from the top of the hill is sublime, But if you would see it you've first got to climb. The things o' life never fall to the shirk, They go to the chap who is willin' to work. The flag of our country was hung to the sky An' kept there by men who were willin' to die. They took a disaster an' death's sudden rain For the sake of the goal that they wished to attain. An' they didn't imagine they'd conquer the foe By never once feelin' the force of a blow.

Stand fast to the purpose! Don't whimper an' whine Because now an' then there's a bend in the line. Some day in the future when war's flags are furled We'll find a new beauty is born to the world. We're pledged in the struggle to some-thing worth while, An' before we attain it our troubles will pile. There are rough roads to travel, an' dangers ahead, An' s'udy we'll read through the lists of the dead.

But cling to your faith! We shall conquer some day! It's got to be April before it is May.

This is not a war of armies but of nations in which every citizen must do his part.

Every worker in our industries is truly fighting in this war. Every man, woman and child who gives of substance and savings is adding to the national power.

stance and savings is adding to the national power.

The foundation of all our vast war-making machine is the Liberty Loan.

Money is needed to build more and more ships; to furnish food and guns and powder and transport and airplanes; to raise and equip new armies.

We must oversubscribe this Third Liberty Loan and do it quickly.

We must show the courage that is in us.

Heroism While a "Mopper-up" Wins Yank French Decoration

With pistol in hand, he boldly advanced at the head of a group of moppers-up and distinguished himself by his zeal and scorn of danger.

Most of the stories of American valor and there have been many, have been made public by the French in decorating deserving Sammies. Here is one of them, and it is typical: Jerry Brown, of Columbus, O.—Probably everybody in Columbus now will claim to have known Jerry and to have attended the same lodge. Jerry Brown is now wearing a French decoration, or would if our government would allow it. Jerry belongs to the old fourth Ohio, and during a raid on March 9, pistol in hand, boldly advanced at the head of a group of moppers-up and distinguished himself by his "zeal and scorn of danger." And "moppers-up" have no easy job. After the infantry has taken the trenches, they follow up and "clean up." They talk death to the Hun dugouts and "machine" gun nests and clean them of the enemy so that others will not be attacked from the rear. They inherit all the hatred, left behind trouble. But Jerry Brown, Buckeye Sammy, gets fat on that kind of work.

American Sentry Shows Fritz Yank Spirit When Outnumbered

He waited calmly as the Germans began to drop into his trench. When five of them had entered he thought it was time to start something. One shot and the officer leading went down. The others hurriedly sought protection, but the Sammy was too quick for them and a couple more went down.

Sammy seems to be at his best when the odds are against him. Then it is that he just "recoils" up and shows what he's made of. Even forty to one never makes him throw up his hands in "Kamarrad" fashion. Only the better times that. This is the story of a lone American sentry who single-handedly started an offensive all his own, routed a raiding force of forty Germans, killed two leaders and several others and made it so hot for them that they scooted back to their own trenches.

"This soldier, who is just 'a sentry'—"

GERMAN DESTRUCTION OF ALSACE-LORRAINE IS STILL UNCHECKED

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS-1

With the French Armies, April 15, Germany's latest spoilation of Alsace-Lorraine consists of the carrying away from the latter of all the old antiquities and objects of art on which the two provinces for centuries past have been unusually rich.

The exodus of all these objects, many of priceless historic and artistic worth, across the borders of the two provinces and over into the big German cities would appear to constitute Germany's final effort to squeeze out of Alsace and Lorraine the last thing of value while she still has it within her power to do so.

During the seventeenth century Alsace and Lorraine became very much a center for various lines of art and especially for the making of the various styles of furniture which have since won for themselves fixed places in the history and development of artistic furnishings. Because Alsace and Lorraine was the center of the various trades, art crafts, and manufactures that were employed in the production of these historic styles of furniture, thousands of the best pieces remained in the two provinces where they became heirlooms in the native families.

It is largely this class of art objects that the Germans are now searching out and carrying off to Berlin, Munich and other German centers. Owing to the fact that the German authorities are now forcing the liquidation and sale of all homes and other properties owned by French citizens and often of Alsacians guilty only of French sympathies, thousands of these old pieces of furniture are being thrown onto the market in a manner that enables the German antiquarians to buy them at nominal figures. In other instances, the antiquarians search out families that have been impoverished by the war and prevail upon them to part for a little ready money with objects of the greatest artistic value.

This exploitation of the two provinces by German antiquity dealers appears to have reached such a proportion that even the German press, notably the "Kleine Presse" of Frankfurt have printed articles pointing out the iniquitous practice. The "Hamburger Zeitung" also details the scandal in the following manner:

"The lovers of the art objects and antiquities of Alsace are becoming alarmed over the fate of all the beautiful and precious art treasures that are now actually leaving the country. From all parts of the German empire antiquarians are now being sent to the frontier provinces for the purpose of reselling them at fabulous prices to their clients at Berlin, Munich and elsewhere."

"The hour is propitious for such purchases. Numerous auction sales and foreclosures offer favorable opportunities for the acquisition of objects of real value. Many small middle-class families of the villages have no longer money, and without too much haste, one will give up a bureau of the Louis Sixteenth style which has come down to them from a grandparent and which is finished in strips of brass engraved by hand. With the money which they receive they can purchase other articles less indispensable."

A Nut-Made Butter

Made From Cocoanuts at the Price of ANIMAL FAT-MADE Oleomargarine

This is to users of oleomargarine. Also to butter users who rebel at butter's cost. Some Old-World scientists have solved the problem of making butter out of cocoanuts. Think of that. It is made from that delicious nut-meat which you use in shredded form on cake.

It is churned with milk to give it butter flavor. A capsule of butter color comes in every carton. So it looks and tastes like butter of the finest grade. But this vegetable fat comes from Tropic cocoanuts.

The Name Is Troco

This product is called Troco. It is made in Milwaukee by the Troco Nut Butter Company, in a model modern creamery.

We use the identical process which is used in Europe, where this new delicacy was created.

Any grocer will supply it to you under this guarantee:

"If one pound of Troco fails to prove itself the best article you ever tasted in place of butter, we will gladly return your money."

Made from Cocoanuts

The usual oleomargarine is made, as you know, from beef fat, hog fat and often cotton seed oil. It is churned with milk, as Troco is, to give it butter flavor.

It is a cleanly, healthful product. But lard and oleo seem uninviting spreads. That's why so many cling to butter, despite the butter cost.

But Troco comes from the white meat of the cocoanut. No food in the world is more appealing.

It has the same food value as butter. It looks and tastes like butter. And you rarely find a butter so pure and sweet as Troco.

Greater Economy

Troco costs about the same as high-grade oleomargarine. Its use will save you much, as compared with butter at the average price.

You sacrifice nothing whatever. You get no lard, no oleo in it. You get nothing but the fat of the cocoanut, churned with milk and salted. No preservatives are used.

For your own sake, try one pound. It will be a revelation. If you are not delighted, get your money back.

Notice: Under the law, all butter substitutes must be branded Oleomargarine. That law was passed before Troco was invented. So the Troco package is branded "Oleomargarine" though there is no oleo in it.

All butter substitutes must also pay an extra tax if colored. So the color for Troco comes in a capsule. Add it yourself, as you do with oleomargarine.

BEGIN NOW

Order a pound or two of Troco today. Your dealer has it, or can get it easily. Put Troco to a competitive test. Both your palate and your pocketbook will decide in favor of Troco. If you are not pleased, your money back.

German Raider "Agassiz" Has Short Career; U. S. Patrol Boats Nab Her

Handcuffed crew of the German raider "Agassiz" aboard U. S. warship and the small raider soon after she was captured.

San Francisco, April 18.—(Special) The "Agassiz," smallest of German raiders, has recently been captured by U. S. Pacific patrol vessels, her prize crew "put in irons" and the little schooner herself placed in the charge of an American prize crew.

The boat had originally belonged to the University of California and was sold to a company engaged in the Mexican coast trade. When the concern failed the little auxiliary schooner was purchased by Germans at Mazatlan. The new owners fitted her out with armament and sent her to sea to prey upon all allied shipping in the Pacific.

The small ship flew the German flag, but was under American registry. Though her career of piracy was not a long one, the "Agassiz" was able to cause more than a little disturbance. Soon after her "debut," however, American patrol vessels heard of her set out upon her trail and speedily captured the boat and her crew. The "Agassiz" had a picturesque career in a short one. The boat is one of the thinnest to float the Pacific and the crew looked the part of pirates, being an unusually wild and fantastic group.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, April 18.—In order to assist the captured quota of Liberty Bonds in Edgerton, Fulton and Portia, it will be necessary for every person to take bonds to the amount of three percent of the assessed value of his property and income.

The Liberty Loan volunteers, earnestly reminding that every resident of the city and those towns subscribe for that percentage of bonds. This is an application of the fair share principle, and the amount each person should take in bonds would be fifteen times the amount assessed to his fair share.

The volunteers pledge their organized and continued effort to securing this uniform rate of subscription from all persons financially able to take bonds, and bespeak the same hearty, willing co-operation that made the fair share drive so successful. This is an appeal on an equitable basis to the patriotism of this community in order that they may know what they are expected to do to secure victory.

At the church bells rang out their merry peals on Monday night and again on Wednesday night, reminding us again that now is our opportunity to help our boys who have been and are so willing to face suffering and death if need be to save the mothers and sisters of this country from what the mothers and sisters of Europe have been forced to suffer at the hands of the enemy. The thought came to many of us that in the coming days these same bells may toll in honor of the dead. If this time comes, mother, sister, wife, sweetheart, friend, how are you going to feel if you have not done your very best in every way at all times to help these boys?

At the Erie Thursday evening Miss Virginia White will give a reading entitled "What are you going to do to help the boys?" A chorus of young ladies will assist her. Do not miss this treat.

A meeting of the Woman's Liberty Loan committee was held in Library hall, Edgerton, on Thursday evening with about one hundred ladies in attendance, each of whom had pledged her services for Liberty Loan and War savings work during the period of the war. The meeting was opened by the chairman, Mrs. L. P. Holt. An inspirational address was given by Rev. M. H. Bryant. Mrs. C. A. Anderson, Rock County chairman, explained the organization of the Liberty Loan Committee from its formation by the Secretary of the Treasury, W. G. McAdoo, to the organization of each precinct in a county, stating that the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee is an organization working directly under the Treasury Department of the United States. J. J. Dickinson explained how bonds may be purchased and the use of the application blank. Mrs. E. T. Kolbe gave directions for a census of all children under six years of age in the city, this census to be a preparatory measure toward the weighing and measuring campaign which is to follow. Mrs. Holt gave a very interesting piano recital, assisted by Mrs. Holt at the piano, entitled "What are you going to do to help the boys?" Mrs. Holt then gave the plan of the campaign in Edgerton and each worker started out with a determination to do her best for Our Boys and Uncle Sam at this time. She was admonished to "think Liberty Bonds, Talk Liberty Bonds, but above all, sell Liberty Bonds."

And now this committee would make this appeal to the women in Edgerton: It is ours not to question why? Ours but to save, and our Third Liberty Bonds. Shall we reach the place where the moonlight is a thing to be dreaded because of aid raids? Where children clasp their hands in cruel grief when an enemy dirigible is seen in flames? Are these the ideals we would inculcate in our children? Not only for ourselves but for our children are we fighting. If we fail—General Thrift will win

The sketches show types of the 112 members of the I. W. W. recently haled before Judge Landis of Chicago on charges of disloyalty. Many other kindred indictments have been brought against them. "Big Bill" Haywood is the recognized brains of the organization and the leader of all the "Wobblies." Carl Ahlteen is the ex-editor of the suppressed "alarm," and "Red" Doran, known as the "Prophet in Overalls," is a journeyman evangelist. Fletcher is the only negro of the Wobblies on trial, and James Keenan is a type of the many defendants.

Water Polluted.
Pond du Lac, April 18.—Although tests of water taken from the city mains have shown that the supply is polluted, it is not believed that the water is the cause of the epidemic of grippe, which has been prevalent here for the past three weeks. Scores of persons are ill with the disease and physicians say they have been unable to find the epidemic to any certain source.

AMERICAN MILITARY RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION IN FRANCE — A SUPREME ACHIEVEMENT IN OUR FIRST YEAR OF WAR

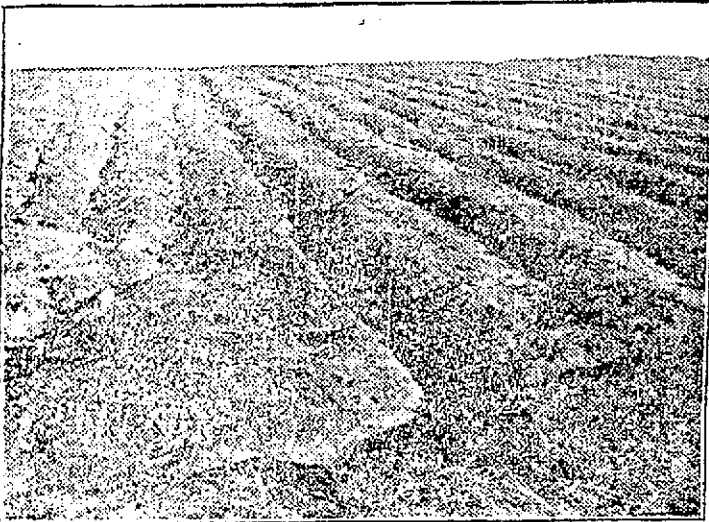

An assembling yard for American locomotives in France.

One of the most important phases of America's military establishment in France has been the building of railroads for the transportation of troops and supplies from the disembarking ports to the front lines. What America has already done in this way has been one of her proudest achievements in the first year of war. A four-track railroad has already been constructed and the photograph shows an assembling yard on the American railroad where locomotives, shipped in parts to France, are assembled and set to work.

PRESERVE FERTILITY AND SAVE THE SOIL

By P. G. HOLDEN.

A WORN-OUT, gullied cotton farm in the South, which has paid the price of a one-crop system of farming. The one-crop system will impoverish the soil and in turn impoverish the people.

Soil washes because it cannot hold the water that falls upon it in the form of rain and snow.

The loss of fertility by washing of the soil amounts to millions of dollars annually in the United States. It is far more damaging to some farms than the pestiferous loss by the growing crops. Erosion removes the best part of the soil—the surface which contains the most humus and the greatest amount of available plant food. The action of erosion is usually slow, but continuous and certain. It starts from small beginnings, works unnoticed, and in the end retards a full measure in worthless land. The most disastrous losses from washing are on rolling or sloping lands which are low in humus. Sometimes it is necessary to keep portions of the farm in timbered pasture. Roots of trees and grass—vegetable matter—hold the soil together and absorb the water, thus preventing washing of the soil.

HAVE YOU READ THIS BOOK?

As Described by High School Boy It Should Be Worth Spending Some Time On.

Submitted by a second-year high school boy:

"Robinson Crusoe.—This book was chosen by Depoe, a man of many qualities and professor at Fordham university. It was edited by Ginn & Co., containing 140 pages, costing 65 cents.

"Professor Depoe's selections are very interesting. He knows where Crusoe left his wife and went up to the summit of a high mountain with his gun in hand, accompanied by a dog. While he was there for a short time darkness came upon him and he felt drowsy, so he put his gun at his side and fell asleep. Here he slept for a number of years and when he awoke he found that he had grown old and his gun was rusty. Moreover, there were men playing tennis and dining on the mountain. This he, too, soon partook of. Finally he thought of home, and he began to descend the mountain. He now found himself in a city. After searching for his home he was made known to his wife, and they lived happily ever after.

"All of Depoe's books are on this style and should be in every home."—New York Tribune.

IOWA CANDIDATES ARE FILING THEIR PAPERS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Des Moines, Ia., April 18.—Persons seeking nominations in the Iowa primary election June 3 must file their papers with the secretary of state on or before April 24, as the twenty-day filing period began April 4. The general election will be held Nov. 5.

Except for supreme court and district court judges, the nominations are partisan, but only the Republican and Democratic parties will be represented on the state ticket, as no other party polled two per cent of the total vote cast for governor at the last election.

The non-partisan candidates will be nominated for each of the supreme and district court benches to be supplied, while in the case of partisan offices, of course, only one nominee will be chosen by each party.

Governor W. L. Harding is again seeking election on the Republican ticket, while a conference of state Democrats recently asked Claude R. Porter of Centerville, Ia., to try for the Democratic nomination.

Mr. Porter has twice unsuccessfully sought election for governor on that party's ticket. B. P. Loos of Des Moines has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination.

Just what opposition will develop to the re-election of W. S. Kenyon, United States senator, has not been indicated, but the Democratic conference did not recommend a candidate, declaring the Republican senator had "stood by the president" in all important war legislation.

There will be contests for the congressional nomination in several districts and conflicts are expected for virtually all other state and minor office nominations. The list of offices subject to the primaries include the following:

Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, three supreme court justices, two railroad commissioners, thirty state senators, the entire state house of representatives, a number of district judges, one United States senator and eleven federal representatives.

ILL WIND AND A GOOD ONE

Young Man Offered "Proof" That Strong Gale Could Build as Well as Destroy.

"Gentlemen," said the innocent-looking young man, "many people would be disposed to doubt some of the stories that you have been telling about the freaks of the wind, but I don't. The man who told how the wind took off the roof of his and his neighbor's houses, exchanged their and nailed them down, has my unlimited confidence. My father had an experience which will not permit me to be skeptical."

"Did he have a house blown down?"

"No; he hadn't any house to be blown down. He had been living in a hotel waiting for his new residence in the country to be completed. All the material was lying out in the fields and the plans were in a toolshed near by. When he went to look at the place one morning he found that the wind had broken open the tool-house, secured the plans, built the whole house up, cleaned the windows and started a fire in the kitchen range."

Each man 'picked up his hat and went home.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Almost Due.

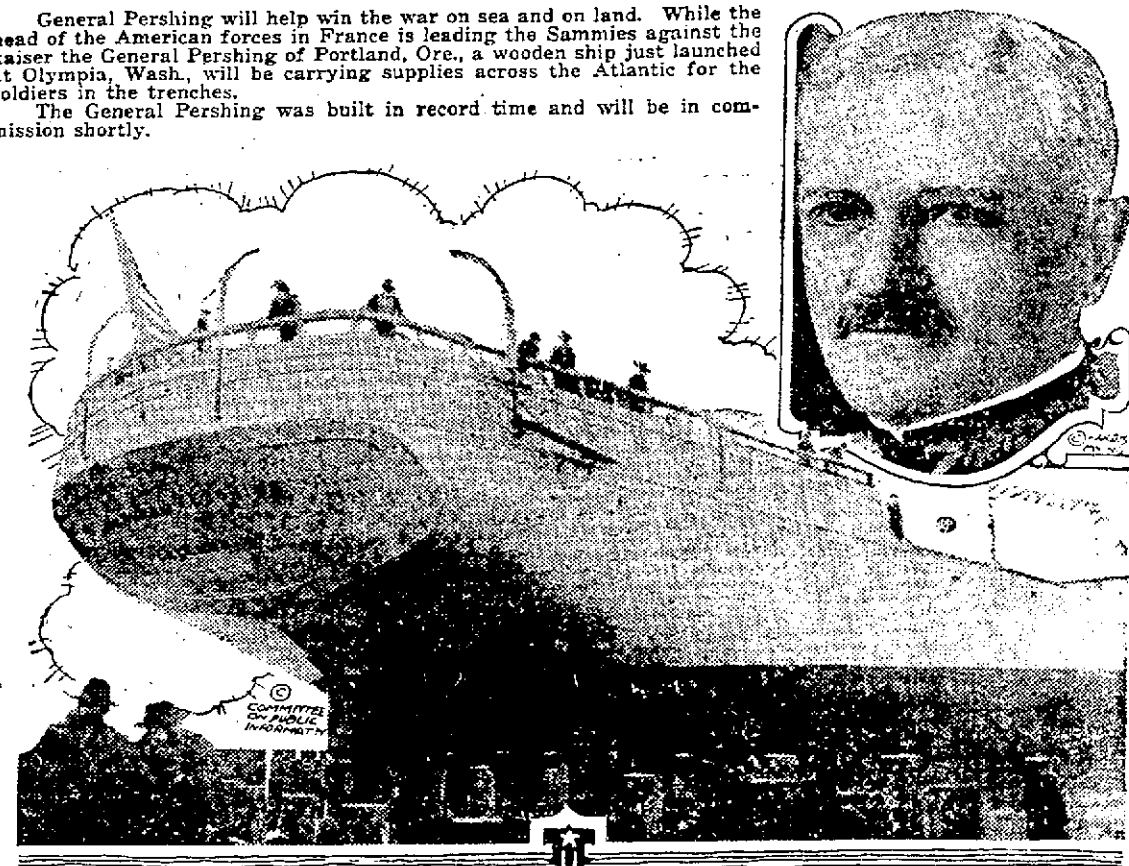

Father—"Helen, isn't it about time you were entertaining the prospect of matrimony?" Daughter—"Not quite, pa. He doesn't call until eight o'clock."—Judge.

"Let us Keep the Glow in Old Glory"

Buy Liberty Bonds
Today

Gen. John J. Pershing.

LET US BACK HIM TO THE LIMIT

WHAT are you doing to help Pershing push on to Potsdam? You know what he said: "The German army can be beaten; the German army will be beaten; the German army must be beaten!"

Pershing can't do it alone. He and our army with him can't do it alone. You and I have to be with them, heart and soul and pocketbook.

We've got to back Pershing to the limit--to the last ditch and the last man and the last dollar.

His responsibility is greater than that ever shouldered by any American general--really greater than that of any other general in this war.

Pershing is responsible with President Wilson, for our Country

He needs a steady stream of food, munitions, ships and men. And there is just one way to raise these for him--we must raise the money to supply them. Everybody must help--high and low, rich and poor. There is no man or woman who cannot help us back Pershing.

"Upon America is to rest the brunt of the terrible burdens to come," said General Pershing. He is there. He knows.

Buy Liberty Bonds today. Buy all you can afford--and more. Buy till it hurts; then buy till it quits hurting. "Let's keep the glow in Old Glory." Pershing is doing his share; we will do ours.

Help the boys at the front; help those making ready to go; help the boys of the navy--help the President and back Pershing to the limit.

The task is great, the duty is tremendous; the aim is vast; the result is sure--if we back Pershing.

Buy your Liberty Bonds today. Don't wait until the closing days of the campaign, but be one of those who see their duty now and do it at once.
